

Meno Consulting Renews Partnership with US Department of Justice

Morgantown, W.Va., April 26, 2010 - Meno Consulting has renewed its partnership with the US Department of Justice, and will be assisting the DOJ in its continued efforts to implement a Leadership Development program.

Meno Consulting originally developed and piloted the leadership program, and managing partners Dan Leidl and Joe Frontiera are excited to continue their relationship with the DOJ. "We genuinely enjoy working with the DOJ. It's an incredibly well-respected organization, and they take seriously the development of their employees," said Frontiera.

The United States Department of Justice is a federal executive department responsible for law enforcement and the administration of justice. Among others, agencies that comprise the DOJ include the DEA, the FBI, and the United States Marshal Service.

Meno Consulting represents a progressive approach to consulting services for corporate, non-profit, and athletic organizations, focusing on leadership and team development. The primary mission of Meno Consulting is to optimize individual and organizational performance through the promotion of effective teams and leaders. Meno Consulting was recently named to TrainingIndustry.com's 2010 Leadership Companies Watch List, recognition for Meno's achievements to date, and its refreshing approach to leadership and team development.

For more information on Meno Consulting and its services, go to www.menoconsulting.com.